

Park Authority Plans Meeting to Consider Action

FOUR PERSONS NARROWLY ESCAPED death this morning when their auto went out of control, flipped end over end and rolled four times on the westbound lane of Highway 99 one mile east of Cabazon. Three persons, including a three-year-old boy, went to San Geronio Pass Hospital with minor injuries. They were Fermin Carruon, 33, Marguerite Chabina, 33, and Victor Chabina, 3, all of Los Angeles. The driver of the car, Joe Hernandez, 40, also of Los Angeles, was unhurt. Highway Patrol officers cited Hernandez for driving without a license. (Photo by William Potts).

Knight Urges Drunk Driver Crackdown

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—If you drink and drive over the New Year's holiday or drive recklessly, there's a jail cell waiting for you, if not the hospital or morgue.

If Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has his way, every California judge will hand out mandatory jail sentences during the four-day holiday to any drunk or reckless driver.

Knight wants no exceptions to that policy. And using the full weight of his office, he has publicly urged all judges to crack down during the next 72 hours.

Moreover, Knight announced he intends to ask the Legislature when it meets next January to approve a stern program designed to cut down on the slaughter on the highways.

HE WANTS a flat 65 mile an hour limit on the open road with "absolutely rigid enforcement of this limit." He wants the law changed so that judges must sentence drunk drivers, even first offenders, to jail.

He wants the Legislature to increase penalties for speeding, including "drastically heavier fines" for very high speed driving.

He wants 3700 more men added to the California Highway Patrol, 100 of them as soon as possible in January. And he wants to add 50 to the staff of the Department of Motor Vehicles to speed up elimination of unsafe drivers.

Russia Changes, Sends Cold Wave Not Cold War

LONDON, (AP)—A cold wave from Russia held most of Europe in a frigid grip today.

The cold wave spread south and west, dumping snow over wide areas, freezing waterways and taking a toll of human life.

Temperatures dropped to 22 degrees below freezing in the Italian Alps near the Austrian border.

They ranged 10 to 20 degrees below freezing in Central and Northern Italy, but Messina in Southern Italy reported a mild 6 degrees.

Stalingrad in Russia recorded a minus-four thermometer reading while Zugspitze Mountain was the coldest spot in West Germany with a plus three.

Northern Sweden registered a minus 16 degrees and the Gulf of Bothnia is now frozen over, closing Swedish ports to shipping.

Cabazon Officers File Demurrer on Action

Cabazon Mayor L. Dee Tallent and Councilman H. O. Hicks yesterday slapped a demurrer against Grand Jury charges of "willful misconduct in office," attacking the charge as being too "ambiguous" to be valid.

The demurrer was filed as Superior Court Judge Russell S. White dismissed identical charges against Councilmen Elmer N. Bane and Lloyd B. Williamson, who resigned their council posts last week.

Judge Waite docketed action on the demurrer for 10 a.m. Jan. 9.

THE DEMURRER drafted by Dan Kirsch, Cabazon city attorney, attacked a 12-point jury complaint which alleged that the four councilmen authorized and paid ex-

Tramway Group Not to Quit Now

By FRED C. WEIGEL

A course of action by the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority, after its setback last week, will not be determined until after the first of the year when the Authority will hold a meeting in Los Angeles, Earl Coffman, chairman, said today.

The California State Park Board last week voted not to renew a contract with the Winter Park Authority to build a Tramway from the floor of the desert to the top of Mt. San Jacinto, reversing an action taken by them some eleven years ago.

COFFMAN SAID "we have been rebuffed before, and we are not going to quit working on it. The largest Tramway in the world is in France, and it took 50 years of planning and construction to build it. When you are planning a big thing, the job cannot be completed in one planning season, it takes a long time."

At the Commission hearing in Sacramento last week, foes of the Tramway said that the Authority has not acted in the past 11 years to get the necessary money to build the project, but Coffman said today that it took nine of those years to get rights-of-way and to set up the details that would make the Tramway possible. He said that some $300,000 has been spent on engineering, plans and specifications, by engineers and financiers.

"THE BOND MARKET has not been good," Coffman said, "and this year the Federal Reserve has raised the interest rate and people were jarred out of the bond market. We could have sold the bonds during this summer, but with the Federal Reserve action, revenue bonds were just not selling."

He cited as an example, Connecticut, which offered general obligation bonds for a new toll highway across the state at four per cent, but received no bids.

"If we offered the Tramway bonds today, we would not get a bid, but, I am not talking about the future... I know it can be corrected, and with continued prosperity, there will be a market for the local bonds."

AFTER THE FIRST of the year, the Tramway Authority will meet in Los Angeles to consider whether they will just mark time or take aggressive action.

Coffman said that the group, comprised of himself, Francis Crocker, Gwynn Wilson, Leonard Firestone, Arthur Stewart, V. W. Grubbs, and J. G. Nusbaum, will hold its meeting between the first and tenth of the month.

Reds Remove 3 Divisions From Hungary

BUDAPEST, (AP)—The Russians have withdrawn three of the 12 to 14 divisions they had in Hungary at the height of last month's rebellion, independent non-Communist sources reported today.

One hundred and twenty seven trains have carried the tanks, troops and supplies across the Soviet-Hungarian frontier recently and the movement eastward is continuing, the reports said.

THE INFORMATION about the Soviet withdrawal has been received by several independent reliable sources here. It is believed designed to mesh with a master plan to build a Hungarian government similar to the "new look" Communist regime in Poland.

Fewer tanks stood guard in Budapest today and Soviet truck convoys laden with what appeared to be office furniture moved through the snowy streets of the city, carefully observing the traffic rules.

TWO SOVIET guards divisions were stationed in Hungary when the revolt first flared in October. Between 10 and 12 more were rushed into the country from Romania and the Soviet Union itself, according to reports, between Oct. 22 and Nov. 4.

The present reported withdrawal, therefore, represents a cut of one-fourth of the Soviet armored strength that was concentrated in the country during the worst period of the rebellion.

Hungary's restive workers, meanwhile were showing new signs of resistance to the present Soviet supported regime. The workers' anger was being spurred by the nation's economic crisis which has resulted in widespread unemployment.

2 Killed as Train 'Leaps Off Track'

MONTREAL, (AP)—Seven cars of a nine-car train carrying air force personnel to new bases in Ontario jumped the tracks near here in a snowstorm Thursday night, killing two persons and injuring 15.

A witness said "it was a miracle no others were killed" when the train "literally leaped off the rails" and tore up some 400 feet of track at Brossseau Station, 10 miles south of here.

Planners to Seek New Flood Authority

The County Planning Commission today started the legal machinery needed to back through delays in engineering surveys of flood control plans for desert area subdivisions.

The commissioners yesterday said they would investigate action to nullify Coachella Valley County Water District jurisdiction over flood control engineering reports because of mounting delays in District action.

COMMISSIONER L. C. LEWIS said the Board of Supervisors will be asked to extend jurisdiction of the County Flood Control and Water Conservation District to cover flood control planning for all the county, overlapping the Coachella Valley District.

Lewis explained that the Valley District has no accredited engineer

Major Fires Move to Meet Each Other

1300 Men Fight Inferno; Third Blaze Controlled

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—Flames of two major brush fires that have blackened a 50-mile movie colony area licked toward each other today as an army of 1,300 men fought to control the inferno within 25 miles of the sprawling city of Los Angeles.

The region was declared in a "state of disaster" Thursday night by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and the California Disaster Office said the resources of the state and federal government would be thrown into the battle.

MILITARY SUPPLIES equipment and personnel from all the armed forces of the West were placed in the hands of the disaster office today by a liaison officer of the Sixth Army.

Flames from the main fire swirled to within yards of the homes of actor Sterling Hayden and movie directors Lewis Milestone and Jean Negulesco in Ventura County.

The homes of actress Eva Marie Saint, director Norman Foster and Hollywood stars baseball club President Bob Cobb were threatened by Thursday night's outbreak.

TOWERING BILLOWS of white smoke could be seen from the window of the United Press office some 2 miles from the scene.

A third fire was controlled at dawn. The blaze was in the fashionable Bel-Air section and was labeled "major" when it broke out early this morning.

Twelve engine companies from Los Angeles responded to the call and held the charred area to less than 50 acres. No homes were burned.

The two fires in the Malibu area of the Santa Monica Mountains were only two miles apart as they moved slowly together.

THE FIRST BLAZE, which started the day after Christmas in Newton Canyon has consumed 25,000 acres and destroyed at least 60 homes as it exploded from canyon to canyon, driving nearly 2,000 persons from their homes and taking the life of one man who remained behind in an attempt to save his home.

Quake Recorded in New Zealand

BERKELEY, (AP)—The University of California seismograph today recorded a "strong" earthquake some 6,700 miles distant and probably in New Zealand.

Seismologist Dr. Don Tocher said the quake registered a Richter magnitude of 6.7 and lasted two hours. He said it was strong enough to result in heavy damage if centered in a populous area.

Ike May Ask O.K. on Troops in East

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may ask Congress for standby authority to use American armed forces in the Middle East, administration officials reported today.

The idea of using American forces, if necessary, is expected to be raised by the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles when they meet with leaders of both parties in Congress at the White House New Year's Day.

REACTION of congressional leaders will determine whether the President will ask Congress for standby authority to use armed forces in the Middle East.

The idea of seeking standby authority on troops in the Middle East has been under consideration by the Eisenhower administration for more than a year.

The President even considered calling a special session of Congress at the time of the British, French and Israeli attack on Egypt. But it was decided to work out a peaceful solution, if possible, through the United Nations.

IN JANUARY, 1955, Congress overwhelmingly voted the President standby authority to use American forces in the Formosa area.

The Middle Eastern problem, however, is so different that the administration heretofore has sought to avoid any similar action. In the Formosa area, Red China would be the only aggressor. In the Middle East, the aggressor could be either Israel, the Arab states, or—a long shot—the Soviet Union, which has threatened to send "volunteers" into the Middle Eastern area.

Britain and France are putting heavy pressure on the United States to develop a new approach to Middle Eastern policy. They argue that the United States has taken over a responsibility to act affirmatively in the area now that it has blocked the British-French plan to use force against Egypt.

5 Killed in Fiery Collisions Involving Trucks

By UNITED PRESS

Five persons were killed in two fiery collisions involving trucks and 20 persons were hospitalized when a bus and truck crashed near Lincoln, Nev., and burst into flames.

The worst wreck occurred Thursday night when four persons died in the flame seared wreckage of two trucks and an automobile west of Texarkana, Tex.

AUTHORITIES SAID an Army truck from the Red River Arsenal smashed head-on into a grain truck on Highway 82. Moments later, a car rammed into the wreckage and touched off a fire.

Killed were Mrs. Bessie Hopper, 48, Dekalb, Tex.; her daughter, Mrs. Marie Wood, 26, Dekalb, Tex.; Mrs. Curtis Carlton, 34, Brazoria, Tex.; and an unidentified soldier driving the Army truck. The driver of the grain truck escaped injury.

THE DRIVER of a gasoline truck was killed Thursday when the vehicle crashed and exploded at Gentryville, Ind., and sent a river of flaming gasoline down U.S. Highway 45.

The truck, loaded with 7,000 gallons of gasoline, rammed into a tree in the tiny Southern Indiana community and flames from the wreckage burned down a nearby home.

The driver, Robert L. Metzger, 33, Mount Vernon, Ind., was trapped in the cab and burned to death.

Twenty persons were injured at Lincoln, Neb., when a bus and truck collided in flames on a city street. Most of the injuries were minor.

Eleven Killed As U.S. Plane Crashes in Japan

TOKYO, (AP)—A U.S. Air Force PB30 weather reconnaissance plane crashed and burned in a patch of woods 45 miles northwest of Tokyo tonight. Nine members of the 11-man crew and a Japanese farmer were killed. The two remaining crew members were injured seriously.

3 Arizona Men Found Killed

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—The bodies of three Eloy, Ariz., men were discovered in the twisted wreckage of their plane in rugged mountains five miles north of here yesterday, four days after they took off from an airport here.

Police Kept Busy Checking Bomb Stories

Time Bomb Found After Crowd Leaves

NEW YORK (AP)—A homemade time bomb was found in a Times Square theater and a harmless decoy was planted in an entrance to Grand Central Station today, and many more reports of bombs are keeping police on continuous checking.

Police believed the six-inch device wrapped in a red sock that was removed from the Paramount Theater early today was the handiwork of the "mad bomber" who has terrorized New York for 15 years.

BUT THEY SAID the second "bomb," a six-inch brass cylinder found by a Grand Central redcap, appeared to be some kind of water filtering device planted by a prankster.

Police said someone who "wanted to get in on the bomber's act" apparently had placed the cylinder atop a pneumatic hinge of a door at the Vanderbilt Ave. taxi entrance to the terminal. Vehicular traffic was barred from the area until bomb squad Detective Thomas Sommerville pronounced the "bomb" a harmless fake.

THE SUSPECTED bomb was a six-inch brass cylinder, capped at both ends. It was similar in size to the known products of the "mad bomber," whose explosives have injured 15 persons here since 1940, but it was not wrapped in a sock as most of the bombs have been.

A crude bomb wrapped in a red sock was removed from a seat of the Paramount Theater in Times Square early today, as a result of a telephone tip from a caller believed to be the "mad bomber." It had been planted only a few rows from the spot where a pipe bomb exploded last year.

"This looks like the real thing," a police official said, in an apparent reference to the psychotic who has planted some 30 pipe bombs—several wrapped in socks—in public places here during the past 16 years. Only seven of the bombs have proved to be duds.

Ike to Vacation At Augusta, Ga. Over Weekend

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Eisenhower took off today for a weekend of relaxation at the Augusta, Ga., National Golf Club.

He was accompanied aboard the presidential plane Columbine by his son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, and Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, the presidential physician.

The President on Monday will hold a series of meetings with Republican congressional leaders on plans for the coming session of Congress. On Tuesday, New Year's Day, he will meet with congressional leaders of both parties.

DHS Volunteer Fire Department Elects New Officers

The Desert Hot Springs Volunteer Fire Department has elected the following officers for 1957: "Bud" Krotter, chief; Elmer Rebliger, assistant chief; Cliff Arnold, first captain, and Richard Roderick, second captain.

Chief Krotter appointed the following officers to serve for the ensuing year, or until relieved from duty: Joe Merrick as treasurer and C. Harrison "Russ" Russell as secretary.

Annual Fireman's Ball will be held on Saturday night, March 16, at Addington's.

Burning permits are now required in all instances where burning of trash and all combustible materials are involved, even though an incinerator is used, Chief Krotter said. Permits good for one year may be obtained free of charge at the fire station on First Street, just west of Signal Service Station, daytime or evenings.

Those who are physically unable to go to the Fire Station are asked to contact Russell, the department secretary, by calling 4-2282, and he will arrange to bring the permit to the person calling.

LET'S SPEND OUR OWN MONEY (New York (N.Y.) Christian Economics)

The welfare state is popular because men fancy they will get more in hand-outs than they must pay in taxes. It is generally believed that the rich pay the greater part of the cost of the benefits paid out by the state.

How wrong they are may be seen from the experience of Great Britain, a state which is much farther down the welfare road than our country. In 1951-1952, 54-1/10 per cent of the total income tax collected came from men and women earning less than 500 pounds per year—about $1,400. Obviously the greater part of the cost of the welfare state comes from those in the lowest income tax brackets. That is true in America as well as in Britain.

In addition, those in the lower income brackets also pay the greater part of indirect taxation.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Fugitives Are Not Fighters

AIRBORNE TO EUROPE — Back at McGuire Air Base (N.J.) an airlift plane landed with its load of Hungarian refugees. The ceremonial welcome for these arrivals does not take place at the airbase but at Camp Kilmer some 45 miles away where refugees are taken by bus. Therefore, the landing on the runway, the descent down the ramp, and the 20-foot walk to the waiting bus are what constitute the actual arrival of the refugees in this land of the free.

Waiting for them on the concrete were a few civil service officials, one commissioned military officer, an Air Force major, not more than a dozen non-coms and technicians, as well as six newsmen, three foreigners and three Americans. We were awaiting our outbound flight.

First off the unloading plane were two European newsmen who waved and shouted to their colleagues. Then came two Hungarians in rumpled suits, their pockets stuffed with minor belongings. They stopped and looked about them with a slight sense of grateful bewilderment as if to say, "This is really America?" Then one of them took off his purple fedora and bowed with gracious, Old-World courtesy. The other, plainly thinking this was the right thing to do, removed his hat, gave the same formal bend at the waist. Then they got into the bus.

BEHIND THEM CAME a young couple, hardly in their twenties, hugging each other's arms as they ran, half-crouched and laughing gaily, to the waiting vehicle. Then a young mother, her arms full of clothes, with an enormous American Army master sergeant carrying her baby. Then a boy of maybe six, holding possessively a golden teddy bear. He was followed by a beautiful girl of 15 or so, with a peaches-and-cream complexion. She kept her head and eyes modestly down as she went past us, but it gave you a pang of delight to see that happy smile on a young and lovely face.

Behind her came a man with a harsh, unshaven, unsmiling face and wild black hair. He looked the part of a dangerous but disappointed revolutionist, and for that reason he was a stand-out. No other passenger had the air of violence and rebellion.

THIS DID NOT surprise the Danish reporter with us on the landing field. He had been in Hungary when the revolt broke out. He had covered the whole of postwar Europe, had been many times to America; a day or two before he had arrived on one of these refugee airlift planes. These people, he reminded us, were not all revolutionists, much less "freedom fighters" against Communists.

Practically all, he said, were "Communists" themselves. (The word is loosely used in Europe to mean "Socialist.") What else could people be in a country like Hungary? They were not defending their beliefs, their country, their homes, but were running away from these, from oppression, from every hateful thing that Europe had been to common people during their lifetimes.

The other foreign reporters confirmed the Dane's remarks. The average age of the refugees has been between 18 and 30. Had

You might as well realize, Mr. Average Citizen, when you vote subsidies for housing, for farmers, increased payment for social security, medical services, roads, schools or anything else, that you and your group must pay the major portion of the cost.

If the people ever realize this important fact, the editor believes they would prefer freedom wherein they would make their own choices as to how they wish to spend their money rather than take pot luck in whatever scheme the government bureaucrats choose to foist upon them. After a swollen bureaucracy has lived well out of what it takes from the people there is bound to be much less to return to the people. The welfare state is the way to have less—much less—than the people could have, including those in the lower brackets, if they would abolish it, reduce government to its lowest proportions, and take over that which is their God-given right, the spending of their own money.

they not escaped, many would have been sent to Siberia, or so they believe. Many left their families behind, despite the possibility of reprisal.

A LARGE NUMBER of Hungarian doctors, for reasons not very convincing, left both their regular patients and the casualties of the revolution. An American Medical Association report has revealed that at the end of November some 300 Hungarian physicians had fled to Vienna, and the N. Y. Times reported on December 16th that "an increasing number" of Hungarian doctors were reaching Camp Kilmer. The foreign newsmen at McGuire do not find any of this surprising. They say that the escapees from Hungary are mostly persons who have always wished to escape and who have made the revolution and the American airlift their opportunity.

If any significant amount of all this be true, the American public has emotionalized and misunderstood the nature of the immigration wave. Since 1952 the United States has been one of 27 nations with membership in the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration with headquarters in Geneva. Immigration officials, taking a longer view than most of us, regard the Hungarian surge as a large, but not essentially different, influx of persons into a stream. Never for 100 years has it ceased to flow from the Old World to the New.

Hundreds have come out of Hungary, but thousands remain. We should not confuse the fighters and the fugitives, the patriots and the pilgrims. We should not judge them either.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

The One From Tennessee

HOLLYWOOD — Nat (King) Cole will play his first straight dramatic, non-singing role in 20th's "China Gate" . . . Ask most anyone at 20th-Fox which of its new contractees, Elvis Presley or Pat Boone, he prefers and you get the tactful answer: "The one from Tennessee" . . . P.S.: Both are from Tennessee.

MGM will surround Bing Crosby with unknowns in "Man On Fire" . . . Hollywood's new Production Code changes will let Hecht-Lancaster's "The Bachelor's Party" off a fat hook on its abortion angle . . . Perfect title under the revised Code: "The Drugged White Slave Who Kidnapped My Naked Illegitimate Baby" — and watch some quickie producer make it!

I hated to see the Code changes. As one anti-change Hollywoodite puts it: "The Code is designed to help us make movies that neither frustrate the adult nor offend the innocent."

FOX'S BLUEPRINTS for "The Wayward Bus" include Ty Power and Shelley Winters as the bus driver and his wife, Jayne Mansfield as the dancer and Eddie O'Brien as the salesman . . . Ann Southern opened a gift shop in Sun Valley . . . Alice Marble, the former tennis great, is now a doctor's receptionist in Encino, Calif. . . . "The Prospector," which Tay Garnett will put before the cameras in February, is about a minister who gives up his calling. Next thing you know, they'll be shooting "The Nun's Story!" . . . Clark Gable himself picked Yvonne DeCarlo as his leading lady (the mulatto girl) in "Band of Angels," and if you've seen her sensational work in "The Ten Commandments" and "Loves and Death of a Scoundrel" you know why . . . Overheard at the Hollywood Brown Derby: "That gal's put together like she was planned!"

Gladys O'Brien, Margaret's mother, is recuperating from an operation for a malignancy . . . I saw "The Rainmaker," a fine example of a second-rate play turned into a first rate movie. Kate Hepburn weeps her way through it and Burt Lancaster is fine in the title role but a newcomer named Earl Holliman, playing Kate's idiot brother, walks away with it.

I ALSO MADE a fast shuffle to the Biltmore Theater for a fast backstage Saluti! to the Lunts following their gale opening in "The Great Sebastians" . . . Introduced to another actress in her dressing room, Lynn Fontanne said, "Oh yes—I saw you in a movie and you were DIVINE. I can't remember the title but I remember EVERYTHING else, my dear, especially you!"

Allan Jones, Jr., is studying singing and dramatics and will screenact at 20th-Fox. He's 19 . . . Allan, Sr.'s definition of a bachelor: A guy who likes to cook his own goose . . . "The Sophie Tucker Story," once announced for Betty Hutton and then abandoned, is sizzling on the studios' front burners again. This time it looks like Doris Day.

Incidentally, Soph's gown for "The Joker," in which she plays herself introducing Joe E. Lewis (Frank Sinatra) to a Chicago nightclub audience, clipped $1,300 out of Paramount's budget for the picture. After the picture was over, it went to the highest bidder, Soph herself, for $500 . . . An aide gave Cecil B. DeMille a Christmas gift, a gunnysack inscribed: "A Bag for the Man Who Has Everything—to Put It In."

TV TOPICS — Inside dope seeping from NBC's stately halls is that "Bob Montgomery Presents" will emanate from Hollywood poco pronto . . . Bing Crosby instead of Bob Hope will be Walter Winchell's competition in the annual putting contest at the Desert Inn golf course in Las Vegas — the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund Benefit this coming April.

No one's found anything out of line in connection with pre-show tip-offs on any of the new TV quiz shows but suspicions are still floating around . . . Guy Madison and Andy Devine are putting together a 30-minute Western show to be staged at fairs and rodeos next summer.

'Wonder If Nehru Did Any Good'

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Wednesday's Sun I have not yet seen. I approach scanning it with dread. For Wild Bill and I swapped spots for the day And I'm afraid to read what he said.

Summoned away in haste, I did not have time to peruse The Sun of Wednesday, the day after Christmas. That was the day Wild Bill Rashall and I traded spots in The Sun.

But, to put it succinctly, any charitable things he said about me are true, any derogatory remarks, a base canard.

THREE COMMUNICATIONS this week were welcome. Two were on the traffic situation, the third on colored Christmas trees. On the latter is once I should have fouled up my typewriter ribbon before I wrote.

One suggestion was in regard to that Araby Point bridge. Said a nice woman: "Why not paint bright white double lines along the edge of the highway, guiding drivers to that bridge. That should warn them that it is narrow and lead them into it. There have been three mishaps there already."

That is a good idea. I'll add to that. You know how they put wavy lines before boulevard stops in the old days? To warn drivers?

Well, how about waving those double lines? So that motorists in reasonable possession of their faculties, know that something is a bit unusual ahead.

ANOTHER TRAFFIC suggestion had to do with Windy Point and the wind that sometimes sweeps that area with great gusto.

This woman suggested that warning signs be placed on both approaches to the wind area. Like are placed in places where there is danger of slides.

Such as "Slide Area" or "Watch out for Rocks." She would have the state highway department put up signs there such as "Wind Area" or "Watch Out for Wind."

THAT, TOO, is an excellent idea. I have seen trailers overturned there when caught in a sudden gust because the driver was unprepared.

Then, too, I once saw a man in a convertible, attempt to raise the top because the gale was musing his hair.

The wind caught that top, when it was half way up, and whirled it over into the wash.

On another occasion, a man lifted the hood of his automobile after engine trouble developed. The wind caught the hood and in his struggle, he suffered a heart attack.

I believe the idea of warning signs, "Wind Area" is an excellent one.

THE THIRD COMMUNICATION was in regard to green Christmas trees. Another one of those childish remarks because I innocently wondered last week what had become of Christmas trees in the color Nature painted them. Instead of pink, blue, red, etc.

"So you want natural color Christmas trees, eh?" the man asked. "Would you like your automobile unpainted? Your furniture?"

He didn't ask "your women?" O.K. I'm sorry I said it.

In the modern home, a father knows better than to know best, says Cy N. Peace.

INEZ ROBB:

A Christmas to Remember

This was surely a Christmas to remember and cherish as long as we live, for in recent weeks we have been privileged to witness a miracle of the human spirit. This is the Christmas season made joyous by the Hungarian gift of hope to all the world.

In a time of self-doubt and spiritual despair over the eventual fate of liberty, the Hungarian people have proved that the wave of the future spells freedom and not tyranny. They have guaranteed that a second Dark Ages, which often has seemed so threatening, cannot engulf men determined to be free.

This is the Christmas that crowns a turning point in history because a small nation and a brave people have administered what future historians and poets will clearly see as a death blow to Communism. Undoubtedly the death struggles will be long, dangerous and wearisome to the West. But the great fact remains that the fatal wound has been inflicted.

THE FREE WORLD has taken heart from 10 weeks that shook and are still shaking the world. Those weeks have served notice that a people determined to be free can be killed but not conquered, and that tanks cannot avail against the resistance of the spirit. The world on either side of the Iron Curtain can never be the same again.

In the West only 10 weeks ago, as Communism threatened to engulf the Middle East, men talked gloomily of the inevitable triumph of world totalitarianism and its unhappy attraction for politically inexperienced nations. Then a nation of less than 10 million persons defied the colossus.

That act of defiance suddenly revealed for all the world to see the canker that must eventually destroy Communism. That canker is the hatred of slavery that burns in the satellite nations and that beings to burn even among Russian students. The reverse is man's age-old love of freedom that no force in the world has ever yet been able to throttle.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Oliver B. Jaynes
The Desert Sun
Dear Mr. Jaynes:

I am very much interested in your editorial entitled "We're Over-Organized." I concur heartily in your conclusions. For some time I have been trying to promote a system of consolidating all of our charitable relief into one organization, in order that we may eliminate the administrative costs that are inherent in the great number of organizations that are now carrying on different charitable work.

I hope you will continue on a program of trying to correct the present evils.

Cordially yours,

"Seems everyone on the list made their New Year's resolutions early . . . Not to sit with the children at any price! . . ."

BILL RASHALL

Unedited

Rupert "Phat" Graettinger's remarks about this reporter in the space usually occupied by Unedited is accepted with thanks. I fooled him though. He wrote that I would not be able to contain my remarks about him in the space allotted to "This Side of The Sun." But yours truly did, much to the amazement of one Phat, I presume.

If you didn't read both columns pick up a copy of Wednesday's edition of The Desert Sun. Phat was superb in his satire; for the first time in his life he had real competition, and as a result really went to town.

RED KENYON and Leo Baker who have been feuding with ad copy published in this newspaper must have been overcome with the spirit of Yuletide. They expressed nothing but love and kisses in their last ad about each other, in true Christmas expressions. I expect they'll be throwing bricks at each other before the New Year dawns.

The only thing physically that Leo Baker can throw at Red Kenyon may be a bottle of good whiskey or a can of imported delicacies. But don't forget Leo, Kenyon may invite you to take a dive in one of his swimming pools. Be sure there's water in the pool before you dive. Kenyon can be unfunny at times, you know.

FOR YEARS Roy Randolph, the former Dance Master of Palm Springs and now real estate, has played Santa Claus to many children in the Village. He usually stops with a beautifully wrapped package for some child on Christmas Day, as he has at our door for Kater every year from the first Christmas after her birth five years ago.

Every hotel in town is jammed. I learned yesterday, and there is every indication that after the dawn of the first year the same business will continue. Dewey Metzger in for a visit informed me that even with all of the new hotel accommodations in town, it will be hard for people to obtain reservations a week or so after Jan. 1.

Manager of the Oasis hotel, he said that he has been trying to obtain accommodations for patrons of Western Hotels and is having a hard time doing so.

INTERVIEWED JOHN Carroll, the motion picture actor of years gone by, last night. He is producing his own pictures now. "I never wanted to be an actor," he said, "just sort of drifted into the business. Really, I have always wanted to be a writer. I like to write, which goes well with the production of pictures." Tall and still handsome, I was amazed to hear him say that it has been more than 40 years since he stopped at a place called Hollywood.

One of the motion picture families I like very much is Kirk Douglas, his wife and his two sons, Michael and Joe. Talked to Kirk at Don the Beachcombers where he had been dining with Michael and Joe. "I plan to remain here in Palm Springs until Saturday," said the actor. We will return right after the first of the year and stay at our home for the entire month of January."

THERE'S A TERRIFIC show in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi right now. Chop Chop the magician, Joanne Gilbert and her hot songs and Ben Blue and his cast make up a menu of good entertainment.

This Ben Blue who looks so youthful amazed me by saying that he has been trotting the boards of theaters from North to South and East to West across this nation for more than 40 years. John Carroll believes that next to Charlie Chaplin, Blue is the world's foremost pantomimist. I believe he is too. That business in the park with the bee that he does is really a riot.

JACK CASEY'S musical combo in the Celebrity Room is better than good.

I understand that most of the large hotels who remain open all summer are thinking about going into a "travel to Palm Springs" deal with Western Air Lines. I've been working on that deal for seven years. It certainly takes time to do something these days, doesn't it?

EARL WILSON:

Good Old Days—Or Were They?

NEW YORK — Christmas time is nostalgia time.

"Life's too fast now since science has taken over," a man was saying the other day.

"Oh, for those good old days," he went on, "when Major Bowes was on the radio, and Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs, and the Cincinnati Reds won the pennant, and John Barrymore was chasing Elaine Barrie around the country . . . and that's all we had to worry about."

Yes, bring back the good old days when you risked a broken arm cranking your flivver . . . and thawed out the radiator with a teakettle . . . when you probably died if you got pneumonia . . . and used coal-oil and sugar as a cold cure . . . or a sock with lacer in it around your neck for a sore throat.

WHEN YOU could just about get KDKA in Pittsburgh on the crystal set . . . and it took 30 hours to fly to San Francisco . . . when you hadn't heard of air-conditioning and gasped for breath on summer nights . . . when snow came through your roof winter nights . . . you chopped wood for a base-burner . . . pumped drinking water at the well . . . got callouses churning . . . and also got callouses milking old Bossy ("So-o-o, Bossy, So-o-o!")

Yes, bring back the mud holes on the main highways . . . outdoor powder rooms . . . coal-oil lanterns instead of flashlights . . . spitons in every store for the tobacco-chewers . . . stem-wind gramophones . . . the dippers in the water bucket in the kitchen for everybody to drink from.

WHEN YOUR ONLY shopping center was a Sears catalogue . . . when women wore "stays" and men wore long drawers . . . when you toted a heavy Ingersoll 'cause only sissies used a wrist watch . . . when you could only hope to get to Europe if you were a millionaire . . . when you got your only refrigeration by buying ice from the iceman or down at the icehouse.

When nobody ever dreamed that some day you could sit in your home and see . . . free . . . the shows like Perry Como, Jackie Gleason, Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen put on every week . . . when, in fact, "Show Business" was an expression hardly anybody'd ever heard.

Oh, SURE! Oh, for those good old days . . . of 1956.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Rita Hayworth left for H'wood to start "Pal Joey" rehearsals. (She didn't stop by to hear ex-husband Dick Haymes, now at The Versailles) . . . Tony Perkins arrived on a bike for his date at the Harwyn Club . . . Actress Phyllis Kirk was greeted at the "Bundle of Joy" party by guests who thought she was singer Lisa Kirk.

Gregory Peck was unrecognized at Birdland — except by blind singer Al Hibbler, who sat nearby and spotted the voice . . . Eddie Gorme busted a finger . . . Victor Mature proposed to actress Karen Sharpe . . . Singer Rosalind Courtright's mother was killed in a car crash . . . Gwen Harmon, a former "Miss Alabama," sings in the Martin and Blane record album . . . Betty George bought her mother a home.

Comics Allen and De Wood gave Joni James a wedding gift they knew she didn't have — a Patti Page album . . . A magazine was set to publicize Nanette Fabray's "30th year in show business," then learned this is her 32nd . . . Shelley Winters' next B-way play will be a comedy, "Faster, Faster" . . . Bill O'Dwyer's ailing in Mexico City . . . The Roger Smiths (Victoria Shaw, the Australian actress) are expecting . . . Edmund Purdom's estranged wife wrote a series for a London paper, titled, "What Happens to English Men in Hollywood."

Eva Gabor's marital problems last summer began when she left, against her husband's wishes, for a strawhat tour . . . While Anna Maria Albergotti's waiting for her Italian count to fly over, she's dating Jack Haley Jr. . . .

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Stubby Kaye of "Li'l Abner" says he's careful to watch what he eats. Of course, Stubby eats everything, but he likes to watch it.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Those new low cars," says Lew Parker, "are sure different. Now your fender gets dented on top."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Tina Louise made up a list of Christmas gifts she has to get—from various people.

Coleman Jacoby's young daughter became ill after a trip to the zoo, and Coleman told his wife, "I think 80 or 90 of the things she ate didn't agree with her." That's earl, brother.

Five Hooded Men Beat Man for Racial 'Speech'

CAMDEN, S.C. — Five hooded men dragged a high school band leader into a car Thursday night, spirited him to an isolated spot and beat him with heavy boards and rods while he was tied to a tree.

Guy Hutchins, 52, band director at Camden High School, said his assailants held guns on him and accused him of delivering a speech favoring racial integration. He denied making such a speech.

HE WAS HOSPITALIZED with severe bruises but was not seriously injured. He was released following his ordeal and ordered to get out of town "if you have to crawl."

He said he was returning Thursday night from Charlotte, where he played with the Charlotte Symphony Orchestra, when the attack occurred.

HE SAID HE WAS hit on the backside and lower legs about 80 or 90 times by his assailants.

The hooded men claimed he had made a speech favoring integration before "a Lions' Club auxiliary," but Hutchins said he had not been before such a club in six years and then only to play musical instruments.

Tension in Poland Increased As Nation Prepares to Vote

WARSAW — The situation in Poland is more serious now than during the fateful weekend in October when Nikita Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders flew here as Russian troops stood ready.

That is the view of one highly placed Polish official as the nation prepares for the first free postwar election on Jan. 20.

Wladyslaw GOMULKA, who was cheered wildly when he was swept back to power in the events following the Poznan riots, has the task of getting the country back on its economic feet before the tide of national "self expression" becomes uncontrollable.

The official who expressed his fears, realized only too well, as does Gomulka, that the Soviets banked on giving the Poles sufficient rope to hang themselves.

Gomulka, the man who was the symbol of new found freedom, two months later is the object of grumbling from the people who still have had living conditions, little food, high prices and unhappy prospects for the near future with worn out prewar industrial and farm equipment.

THERE ARE ALSO complaints from students and intellectuals who insist there must be greater political freedom.

At pre-election meetings, these people have been unwilling to back government candidates and insist they must have representatives in Parliament who are in opposition to Gomulka.

There is no doubt that the United Workers Communist party will win. But there is a bitter fight on hand from the contending Peasants party who have won headway with promises of abolishing compulsory deliveries from farm collectives, reduction of taxes and better equipment and supplies in the building and agriculture industries.

THE GOMULKA government believes Poland has gone almost as far politically as she can with safety.

Hemmed in between East Germany and Russia and hamstringed by Soviet trade policies, Gomulka must look to the West, however, for economic help if he is to maintain a lid on the powderkeg of new freedom and anti-Soviet feeling.

The Poles estimate they need $300 million credit to cope with the economic situation. Observers here believe Washington is wary of doing anything that would lead to a Hungary-type explosion. But the feeling here is that such an uprising is more likely if there is no relief for the poverty-plagued country.

THE TRADITIONAL Polish hatred for the Russians could easily spark a revolt. Gomulka may have to resort to fresh oppression to prevent it.

Observers believe that would undoubtedly be misunderstood by those pressing for political freedom and might bring a violent reaction. That would be the sign of "irresponsibility" that the Soviets, with their troops on hand, are waiting for.

Eight Airmen Killed in Crash; Bodies Recovered

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — The bodies of two of the eight men killed when a KB29 Air Force plane crashed on a mountain 50 miles north of here Wednesday night will be returned to Elmendorf Air Force Base here today.

Bodies of the other six crewmen were returned to Elmendorf Thursday from the crash scene near Willow, Alaska.

Peter Corcoran, a railroad section foreman at Willow, said the plane's load of fuel exploded and sent a huge shower of flame and smoke several hundred feet into the air.

Nixon Reports 'No Bottleneck'

CAMP KILMER, N.J. — Vice President Richard M. Nixon denied reports Thursday that there is a "bottleneck" in the government's relief program for Hungarian refugees.

Snow Dusts East, Cold Air Hits Mid-West

By UNITED PRESS

Flurries of snow dusted the northeastern quarter of the nation today and temperatures headed downward in the upper eastern states.

Cloudy, chilly weather extended from the northwestern half of the Plains eastward to Pennsylvania and New York.

FOR A TIME forecasters expected a heavy snowfall in New England states but later modified their prediction to flurries in that area, where a snowstorm wore it self out after dropping a 13-inch deep white coating over the Buffalo area Wednesday night and early Thursday.

A new cold air invasion hit the northern Great Lakes area and will spread as far as the northeastern Ohio Valley by nightfall. Scattered snow flurries and rain occurred in the mid-Mississippi Valley in advance of the cold air.

FOG CONTINUED to plague the Northwest, but there was no sign of rain in drought-stricken Southern California where a raging brush fire already has caused millions of dollars of damage in the plush Malibu Beach area.

Temperatures continued generally mild west of the Mississippi. Readings got no lower than the 50s in Southern California overnight.

Chiari Admits Asking 'Ava' to Become His Wife

MILAN, Italy — Walter Chiari, Italian comedian and matinee idol, said today he had asked Ava Gardner to marry him but that she was holding up her reply till she divorces Frank Sinatra.

The actor, who is sometimes known as the Italian Danny Kaye, dismissed as groundless what he described as "sentimental newspaper stories" that he slipped a ring over her finger under a Christmas tree.

"It is simply absurd that Miss Gardner and I could announce our official engagement before she was granted a divorce," Chiari said after the performance of his hit musical "Buonanotte Bettina" Goodnight, Betty.

"I must admit I asked her to become Mrs. Chiari," he added. "I would marry her even today but her answer was very simple and clear. She pointed out that no decision could be expected until her marriage with Sinatra is cancelled by an official sentence of divorce."

Government Considers Action Against 3 Newsmen

WASHINGTON — Three American newsmen who slipped into Red China illegally could face heavy fines, imprisonment and loss of other privileges, government officials said today.

Government legal officers are determining possible legal actions which might be taken against the newsmen. When they do come home, their passports may be seized — an action that could bar any foreign travel for an indefinite period.

OFFICIALS TOLD the United Press that no decisions had been made on what course of action, if any, will be followed.

The first newsmen to enter Red China in violation of passport restrictions was William Worthy, Negro correspondent for the Balti-

STATE DEPARTMENT officials heard Thursday that reporter Edmund Stevens and photographer Phillip Hollington, described as employees of Look magazine, had flown from Moscow to Peiping without U.S. government permission.

He added that there is no Phillip Hollington on the Look staff but said the magazine employs Phillip Harrington "who travels a minimum of 15,000 miles a year."

WASHINGTON — Three men were held on murder charges today in the slaying of a 20-year-old deaf-mute student who was killed trying to help a man he thought was the victim of a gang robbery.

The victim was John Arthur Reiff, Centralia, Wash. He died Thursday shortly after the ensuing struggle.

Police charged with murder Joe Granville Metyer, Jr., 28, Charles William Harris, 21, and Albert Neely, 39.

According to police reports, Reiff and four other students of Gallaudet College for the Deaf spotted a Negro struggling with two other Negroes near a parked car not far from the college campus.

Handsome Bar Unit Proves Ideal For Family Recreation Room or Den

Refreshments are in order when friends drop in, and a handsome built-in bar is a unit that will be highly useful and provoke admiring comments at the same time.

The bar is an eye-catching addition to any recreation room or den. When built with rigid panels of fir plywood, there is no need for the elaborate framing normally used in cabinets of this size. The amateur do-it-yourself fan can approve professional-looking results by using parallel grooved Texture One-Eleven fir plywood for the base of the bar and relief-grain fir plywood for the cabinet doors.

SPECIALTIES USED. Texture One-Eleven is that startling new fir plywood which has achieved such acclaim as paneling and accent material. Relief grain fir plywood is regular fir plywood which has been manufactured to bring out the grain contours thus giving rise to the tag "sculptured beauty."

Both are easily worked by the amateur using a sensible layout procedure and careful attention to plans and cutting and assembling instructions.

The bar is both compact and portable. When not in use, the bar surface slides into place below the roomy beverage cabinet. The entire unit rests on swivel castors with rubber tires. The bar surface is a plastic laminate surface on a three quarter inch plywood top.

FOLDS COMPACTLY. When the bar is in use, the surface folds out into an area two feet wide by four feet long.

CALECTRIC HOME economists work with youth home economist is working with Campfire Girl as well as adult groups providing free instructions and demonstrations of electric appliance use. This group.

Appliances Last Longer If Directions Followed

An appliance will last long and perform well if the owner takes the time to learn exactly what the appliance is designed to do and how to operate it effectively. Reading the direction books will help the owner get more out of the appliance, and thus a better value for his money.

Maintenance on a regular basis is the most important single rule. Spilled foods and boil-over should be cleaned up as soon as possible. Repairs should be attended to promptly and should be done by a licensed electrician.

ELECTRIC RANGES are less of a chore to clean when given regular care after each meal or as spills occur during cooking. When cleaning enameled surfaces while the range is hot, a paper towel or dry cloth should be used — a damp cloth might crack or "craze" the enamel. When range is cool, wash with a sudsy cloth and finish with a clean damp cloth. A mild household cleanser can be used for stubborn spots.

Drip trays should be cleaned meticulously. Food that has been allowed to dry on electric surface units should be burned off. Never immerse electric units in water.

OVEN COMPARTMENTS can be cleaned with commercial cleaners specifically designed and marketed for this task. Directions should be followed closely. Steel wool, scouring pans and cleansing powders can also be used to clean off spattered grease and dried food.

A rag saturated with household ammonia can be placed over stubborn dried spots, and left overnight. The next day, scouring and washing the spot should complete removal.

Refrigerators should be washed frequently, inside and out. Interiors including walls, shelves, ice trays and the freezing unit can be washed with a mixture of baking soda and cold water. The exterior of the refrigerator is washed with a mild soap and water; polished, if desired, by preparations designed specifically for enameled surfaces. Door gaskets should be replaced immediately when loose or worn out.

AUTOMATIC WASHERS should be thoroughly rinsed after each use, allowed to dry and air. Lint traps should be kept scrupulously clean. Outside of washer can be cleaned with soap and water; occasionally waxed to preserve finish. Different washing machines call for different cleaning methods. Manufacturers' instruction books which come with the machine contain full and specific cleaning and maintenance instructions.

The heating element of a toaster cleans itself and should not be tampered with. (Toaster should never be shaken and banged as this tends to loosen the heating element.) Crumb tray should be removed and cleaned after each use. When cool, metal parts can be wiped with a damp cloth, polished with a dry cloth.

THE COFFEEMAKER should be thoroughly rinsed after use with hot, clean water. Care should be taken to avoid wetting electric element in base. (Never immerse the entire coffeemaker in water.) Dry with a soft clean cloth. Leave cover off for airing. Frequent cleansing of the pump chamber and heating well are recommended—for this, manufacturers' directions should be followed. An occasional boilup with a solution of baking soda and water will help keep coffeemaker clean. Be sure to rinse thoroughly afterwards.

Adherence to manufacturers' instructions, and day-to-day up-keep, will keep appliances at a peak level of efficiency, always ready to help a family live better — electrically.

Early Camellias Brighten Winter Gardens Now

One of the best ways to brighten bedraggled and colorless mid-winter garden—and nearly every California garden suffers from such an ailment during these weeks—is to grow winter-blooming Camellias.

Camellias bloom throughout the fall and winter, beginning in September and ending in April. Many of the Camellias which began blooming in fall are blooming yet—these are called the early Camellias and they include such outstanding varieties as Alba Plena, a large, formal white, and Chandleri Elegans, which is rose-pink and white with peony-like blossoms.

EARLY BLOOMING pink Camellias are Daikagura, a rose pink spotted white, and Debutante, light pink with a large, full, peony-type bloom. Red Camellias blooming early include Manana and Mandarin.

There are a great many more early blooming Camellias in white, pinks, reds and variegations of these colors.

Lumber Gains in Usage Through Increased Exposure in Home Design

By WALTER M. LEUTHOLD
President
National Lumber Mfgs. Assn.

Home buyers can count on seeing more wood in the houses built during 1957.

This will be due in part to architectural designs providing for increased exposures of structural lumber. Also responsible will be greater use of wood for paneling, siding, windows, kitchen cabinets and flooring.

The accent on exposed structural members will be one of the most striking features of new home construction next year.

Modern architects and builders have come to realize that house framing, when properly finished, can impart beauty as well as strength to a house.

LUMBER LENDS itself ideally to such treatment, and home buyers stand to benefit in many ways.

One of the most important advantages is economy. By exploiting the hidden glamour in the basic supports of a house, builders are able to do away with many of the expensive "cover-up" materials which add to the cost of a home without providing a single square foot of additional floor space.

Wood plank-and-beam roof construction, having gained tremendously in popularity in recent years, offers an outstanding example of how builders can cut costs by making more efficient use of natural materials.

With the plank-and-beam roof system, planking nailed atop the beams serves as ceiling and roof decking all in one, eliminating the expense of joists, bridging, sheathing, dry-wall or lath and plaster. Left exposed and given a stain or natural finish, the beams and planking bestow a warmth and custom touch impossible to achieve with other finishing materials.

MORE AND MORE builders are finding it to their advantage to put less emphasis on gadgets and "cover-up" materials and to concentrate more on increasing the size and quality of the homes they produce.

"THAT'S JUST THE WAY I like it," says Emmanuel Rothman, right, pointing out new features of the Iron Tree Inn to Mrs. Rothman, Inn operator, and Mike Jekyll of Associated Realtors. Mrs. Rothman recently re-opened the Inn, at 1600 Calle Palo Fierro, following complete renovation of the 14-unit hotel, formerly the El Miramir Hotel. (Desert Sun Photo)

Iron Tree Inn, Completely New, Now Reopened

Iron Tree Inn, a new Palm Springs hotel, has opened at 1600 Calle Palo Fierro.

The 14-unit hotel, featuring one and two-bedroom kitchen apartments as well as single-room accommodations and a swimming pool, is operated by Mrs. Florence Rothman, wife of Emmanuel Rothman, prominent Los Angeles attorney and income tax expert.

Formerly the El Miramir Hotel, owned by George and Harriet Sample, the Iron Tree Inn has been completely renovated and redecorated at a cost of about $50,000, according to Mike Jekyll, of Jekyll, Bradley and Colvin, Associated Realtors, who handled the sale from the Samples to Mrs. Rothman.

Palm Springs residents since 1952, the Rothmans have two children, a son, Ronald, now attending law school and a daughter, Barbara, a Universal-International Studio actress.

Housing Biggest User of Plywood

Where is fir plywood used?

A recent survey conducted by the Douglas Fir Plywood Association shows that 52 per cent of all fir plywood is used on either new construction or modernization of older dwellings. Of this, 24 per cent is used on new apartments and homes, and 28 per cent on non-residential structures such as schools, warehouses and farm buildings.

New Roses for 1957 Will Not Disappoint Gardeners

To the Rose fancier, the each year's selection of roses is awaited with the same breathless anticipation as are the new styles in gowns by fashion designers and women everywhere. And, certainly, this year, there will be no disappointment in the new varieties.

Of course, the big news is the All America Rose Award Winner. This year, the first is White Bouquet, a pale cream to snowy white Floribunda, which grows a compact plant one and a half to two feet in height with large and gardenia-like flowers. Still too new to be found in many nurseries, White Bouquet will be available in most nurseries which specialize in roses.

A SECOND NEW Floribunda, Moonsprite, has much the same coloring as White Bouquet, pale gold to white. Moonsprite was also considered but did not win the All American selection. It also is still too new to be readily available anywhere but in nurseries which specialize in roses.

Also among this year's new roses which offers a wide variety of rose types and blossom colors is a new climbing rose in the All America Award class. It is Golden Shower which blooms profusely in clear, golden yellow blooms from spring to late fall. A versatile selection for any California gardener, Golden Showers can be grown as a self-supporting pillar rose, a cascading shrub or as a climber.

NOW ALSO IS A selection of roses which should leave no California Gardener unsatisfied in his search for a new rose to plant in an established All American Rose Selection of several years ago. It is Chrysler Imperial available now for the first time in climbing rose form. Reputed to surpass even the famed Paul Scarlet in this class for color and beauty, the Chrysler Imperial is as the aforementioned Golden Showers available almost everywhere.

Also a climber and new on the Rose horizon is Spectacular, a rose that bears scarlet buds that open to double blooms of orange-red. This color is new in climbers, says the California Association of Nurserymen and because it is new, will add brilliance to garden walls and fences. Ask for this at your nursery for it is still too new to be widely available.

In the Hybrid tea group, Lady Elgin is new. Growing on a four to five foot plant, Lady Elgin bears flowers of a burnt orange color and performs well throughout the state. Another new hybrid tea is Living, a beautiful Rose, orange-red in color which grows to four feet in height.

THE CLEAR PINK flowers of Linda Porter will be seen for the first time on the West Coast this season. This hybrid tea bears flowers of pink delicately shaded in apricot with an over-all satiny effect.

Deep, dark and with a rich, spicy fragrance, Midnight, another new hybrid Tea for 1957, has slender buds and blooms of dark red. Its plant is tall and the foliage quite mildew resistant.

The new Roses for 1957 include a large selection of colors, shades and plant types and the local nurseryman is well stocked with many of them. He has many of the established varieties too as well as the supplies and equipment needed for correct Rose culture.

Rotary Children Shown Miniatures at Luncheon

Children and grandchildren of Rotarians, who were special guests at the Club's post-Christmas luncheon at the Tennis Club on Wednesday, were fascinated, as were their elders, by the priceless collection of miniatures which were shown by Isabella Chabneau.

Part of a collection that numbers 30,000 diminutives, the display included the world's smallest pipe organ, encased in a two by three inch tortois shell box. When the lid is raised, a tiny, feathered bird pops up and trills sweet bird-song. Miss Chabneau said the exquisite masterpiece is 250 years old and that the bellows were made of the tough leather of a bat's wing.

She fired a half-inch long gun that made a loud explosive noise and has enough force to kill a man if fired into the eardrum. The most valuable item exhibited was a tiny casket, given to her father Jules Chabneau by the late Queen Mother Mary. Other unusual items are the portrait which is fitted inside a penny; a solid gold coffee set that fits on a tray the size of a dime; two chairs and a table on a pin head; books much smaller than postage stamps; and dozens of other miniatures.

Miss Chabneau said that the master craftsmen of the United States are most famous for miniatures.

The Chabneau collection, which has been made by her father throughout his lifetime, has been offered to Palm Springs providing a suitable location can be provided and certain other requirements met.

Jim Cavett, Rotary president, presided at the meeting which was attended by 140 persons, including 43 visiting Rotarians and 50 guests. A special guest was Harry Harper, incoming district governor of Rotary International.

In presenting the fine program, Ron Ellis suggested the children's party become an annual affair.

Northwesters Here

Out of town guests staying at the Haimovitz's Del Hai Mo Lodge on North Palm Canyon Drive are: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Raphael from Vancouver, B.C., Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Sam August from Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goldberg from San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hoffman, Mrs. F. Roslyn, former owner of Pepper Tree Inn and Mrs. Rubinstein from Seattle.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Elliott and family from Santa Ana, owners of the Sequoia Hotel, are here to spend the New Year holidays.

Gus Layton has returned from Ft. Worth, Texas and expects to be at Thunderbird until February.

CHILDREN AND grandchildren were special guests of Rotarians at their Wednesday luncheon meeting at the Tennis Club, and the program was one guaranteed to fascinate any child and hold the intense interest of the adults. Isabella Chabneau, who showed part of her world-famous collection of miniatures, is holding a tiny pipe organ, from which an even tinier feathered bird emerges and sings. Watching the performance are Susan and Nancy Farris, on left, and Candy Elliott and Stephen Baldwin, on right. (Desert Sun Photo)

Anniversary Celebrated On Christmas

Celebrating their 28th wedding anniversary on Christmas day at the home of their long-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bisesi in Redlands, were the Duane Stachlers of the Village.

The Stachlers and the Bisesis were friends in Indiana and when the Stachlers moved to the Village the Bisesis and their young son Steve came to spend 10 weeks with them. They liked California so well they decided to move here and bought a citrus ranch in Redlands.

The two families have been celebrating Christmas and the Stachlers' anniversary together for several years.

Christmas Dinner at Thunderbird

Lights glittered on an ice block shaped as a anta and sleigh, and tables were decorated with a gingerbread house and fruits, for the Christmas night dinner at Thunderbird Country Club Wednesday.

The Chauncey Needhams were dining with their daughter Georgina Poston and her daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hines and son John. The Harold Coppers, who have just returned from Australia, had her mother Mrs. Martin with them from Los Angeles.

With the George Wrights were the Hal W. Browns and son Bruce. The James Tumas hosted a party which included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harryman and Mrs. Harryman's mother Mrs. Downing Irvin.

In the Joe Hale party were their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Winton Reynolds and their children Pat and Terry, and Mrs. Reynolds Sr. of Los Angeles.

The Ray Ewings had guests, and the Theron Hookers were entertaining members of their family.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Backstrom and daughter Deedee returned Wednesday from Camelback Inn in Phoenix where they spent the Christmas holidays.

Dunbars Jr. Honeymoon In Village

Honeymooning in Palm Springs are the John Bentley Dunbars Jr., who exchanged their wedding vows last night in the Beverly Vista Community Church in Beverly Hills before the Rev. James J. Stewart.

The church was decorated with masses of all white flowers and greens and an all white Christmas tree stood to the left of the altar.

The bride is the former Barbara Huntington Hoag, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal W. Hoag of Westwood, a graduate of Westlake School for Girls and a Kappa Kappa Gamma. She also attended the University of Arizona.

She wore a gown by Priscilla. Fashioned of pure white satin, with a portrait neckline of Alencon lace, the gown was richly embroidered with pearls and iridescent sequins. Its paneled skirt had a court train adorned with festoons of alecon lace, and the bride's long fitted gloves and mantilla were also of lace. She wore pearl and diamond earrings, the gifts of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white butterfly orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her sister-in-law Mrs. Hal W. Hoag Jr. acted as matron of honor.

and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Andrew C. Thomson, Mrs. Kenneth Dohrman and Mrs. Richard Jacobsen. The bridesmaids wore gowns of Christmas red peau de soie, with matching slippers. They wore floral head wreaths and carried bouquets of all white flowers against Christmas red. Flower girl was Sandal Dunbar.

Best man was Richard J. Jacobsen, and ushers were Hal W. Hoag Jr., Sandy Dunbar and Kimball Dunbar.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK, AP — Youngsters took over the top spots in practically every sport in 1956 as honors for the athlete of the year went to master Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

The 25-year-old Oklahoma clown-er led a wave of 30-year-olds to the crest of their various sports as the old-timers began to fade. And even in golf, previously dominated by the 40-year-olds, the individual leaders were 33-year-old Jackie Burke and 30-year-old Haigie Ward.

The only other "elderly" leader was Mrs. Pat McCormick, the 30-year-old California housewife who scored a double Olympic diving victory.

Sport by sport, the individual leaders were:

BASEBALL: Mantle was the stickout, menacing Babe Ruth's heroic home run record of 60 in a season with 52 and also leading the majors with a .353 batting mark and 130 runs batted in. Even Don Larson, the World Series thunder stealer on a perfect no-hit, no-run game, is only 27.

BOXING: Floyd Patterson, a mere 21, became the youngest heavyweight ruler in ring history as he flattened ancient Archie Moore. It was typical of the times, Archie being 40 going on 43.

BASKETBALL: The big man was 6-foot, 10-inch Bill Russell, who led San Francisco to its second straight NCAA title and the United States to the Olympic crown with a final 89-85 win over Russia. Among the pros it was 23-year-old Bob Pettit of St. Louis, a 6-foot, 8-inch former LSU ace who became the greatest scorer since George Mikan.

TENNIS: Lew Hoad, 22 was the amateur ace with victories in the Australian, French and Wimbledon championships. Pancho Gonzales at 29 continued to dominate the pros, overpowering his latest challenger, Tony Trabert.

GOLF: Burke, the "veteran" of the year's stars, stepped forward with wins in the Masters and PGA. Ward copped the amateur second year in a row, first such feat since Lawson Little did it in 1935.

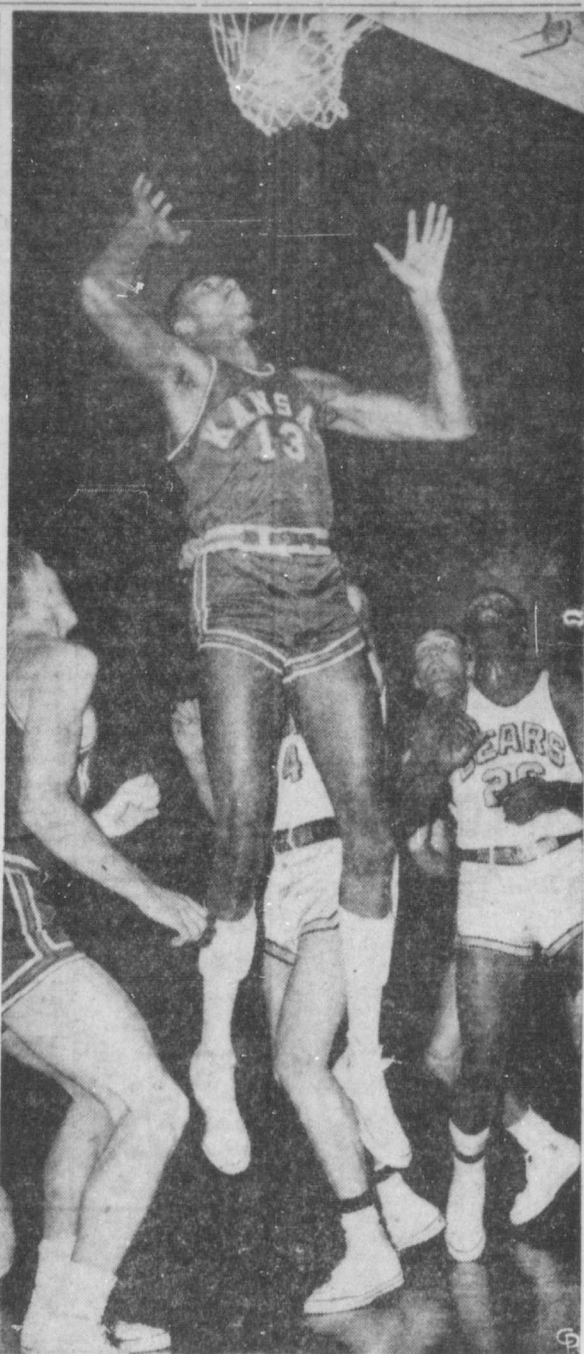

RACING: Willie Hartack, 24, won the riding crown for the second year in a row, taking the play from venerable Johnny Longden's all-time mark.

HOCKEY: Jean Beliveau, 25, won the regular season scoring title and was the leading Stanley Cup scorer and most valuable player in pacing Montreal to an ice sweep.

TRACK AND FIELD: Hugué Parry O'Brien, 24, became the only man to pitch the shot 63 feet, an event in which only two others ever cleared 60 feet.

FOOTBALL: The collegiate leaders were Johnny Majors of Tennessee and Jerry Tubbs of Oklahoma among the linemen. Just a couple of kids, but they've plenty of time in front of them.

Meanwhile, looking back at the rest, they apparently do, too.

WILT CHAMBERLAIN is responsible for Kansas being the No. 1 cage team in the nation, with his latest efforts bringing the Jayhawks a 58-57 win over Iowa State Wednesday night. His team is currently undefeated, but its top ranking is being threatened by North Carolina, which downed Utah 97-76, Thursday night. The seven foot answer to a coach's prayer is pictured in action above.

North Carolina Threatens No. 1 Cage Rating of Kansas

By UNITED PRESS

North Carolina aimed to follow up its most impressive victory of the season by beating Duke tonight and thereby make a strong bid to replace Kansas as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team.

The second-ranked, unbeaten Tarheels never looked better in demolishing 16th-ranked Utah, 97-76, in the opening round of the Dixie Classic Thursday night but they'll be running into a red-hot Duke team which beat eighth-ranked West Virginia, 73-67, in the opening round.

THE BLUE DEVILS were the nation's 12th-ranked team but were not expected to handle Rod Hundley & Co. Yet they out-rebounded and out-hustled the Mountaineers and even made Hundley look bad despite 24 points. Duke also has beaten third-ranked Kentucky so Thursday night's victory could not in any way be regarded as a "fluke."

North Carolina, however, will go into tonight's game at Raleigh, N.C., a heavy favorite on the basis of its velvet-smooth shellacking of Utah. Len Rosenbluth, who would up with 36 points, led a drive that put the Tarheels in front, 42-32, at half-time and midway in the second half the lead had ballooned to 19 points.

DEFENDING CHAMPION North Carolina State upset 20th-ranked Iowa, 84-70, and Wake Forest whipped DePaul, 74-68, to make it a clean sweep of the southern host teams into the semi-finals. NC State and Wake Forest meet in their semi-final game this afternoon.

Indians Win in Consolation

By LINDSAY NIELSON

Coach Al Kazmier's inspired Indian Cagers yesterday outplayed a skillful Brawley ball club in the preliminary consolation round in the Banning Basketball Tournament, 66 to 55.

Two days ago, the local quintet displayed a terrible exhibition of the game of the hoop and sphere, being downed by Calexico 52-49. Yesterday the Warriors completely controlled the action in their battle for the Consolation Crown, and a partial salvaging of tourney honors.

THIS IS WIN number two over the hoopsters from Brawley. Earlier in the season the Indians defeated them 64-45. With this pre-season victory the Indians now have a 5-1 win-loss record, and a 49.1 point offensive average per game.

Curtis Roberts leads with a 13.5 game average and Sam Jones is right behind with 12.5.

In yesterday's tussle the warriors came through with an astounding first half exhibition of expert play making a full control of the back boards. At the half the score read 28-22, Indians' favor.

THE SECOND HALF was sparked by the Redmen's number one ball hawk, Eddy Tarr, and his "heap big" brother, John Warren. Warren was good for 16 points stuffed through the lace, Tarr, 14.

Today the Indians go into the second round of the Consolation tourney. They meet Beaumont at 3:30 p.m. Beaumont defeated Perris yesterday, 58-36. John Summercamp, who just today was named on the all CIF football first team, was undoubtedly the play maker in the Perris tilt yesterday.

Donelli Accepts Columbia Job For 'Challenge'

NEW YORK, AP — Little Aldo Buff Donelli, who never ducked a fight in his life, today faced one of his toughest assignments as the new head football coach at Columbia University.

Under Lou Little, who was retired this year after a 27-year term at Columbia, the one-time roaring Lions turned into tame tabby cats as their material declined in recent years. Little's last winning year was 1951 when Columbia won five and lost three. Since 1951, the Lions have posted a dismal 11-33 won and lost record.

Donelli, on the other hand, enjoyed marked success with equally limited material as head coach at Boston University during the last 10 years. His Terriers won 46 games, lost 36 and tied four. In 1954, BU posted an impressive 7-2 record, losing only to Boston College and Holy Cross by one-point margins.

When his appointment as the new Columbia coach was announced Thursday, Donelli admitted he took the job "because it's a challenge."

"Coaching in the Ivy League should be no different than coaching at Boston University," he added, although he revealed he does not like the Ivy League ban on spring practice.

Sugar Bowlers Claim Game Is Most Attractive

NEW ORLEANS, La., AP — Sugar Bowl officials proudly laid claim today to the "most attractive" match of all the post-season football classics, with a sellout crowd of 80,875 assured for the Jan. 1 meeting between Tennessee and Baylor.

While the Cotton and Orange Bowls are having trouble disposing of tickets, Sugar Bowl General Manager Fred Digby said the contest pitting Bowden Wyatt's undefeated Volunteers against Sam Boyd's Bears "has caught the fancy of the people."

"I think everyone agrees that this is the most attractive of the bowl games this year," Digby said.

Feller to Quit Baseball Today

CLEVELAND, AP — Bob Feller, the Iowa plow boy who succeeded Walter Johnson as the greatest strikeout king of the modern era, is expected to announce today that he is retiring from baseball.

The 36-year-old ex-fireballer, an almost "automatic" selection for the game's Hall of Fame, planned to call a press conference to concede he's "all through."

Close associates say he will reject several major league offers to devote all his time to an insurance business and helping to guide the players' pension fund.

Shrine Teams Name Starting Lineups Today

SAN FRANCISCO, AP — Battle lines were drawn today for the 32nd annual Shrine East-West grid classic here Saturday as head coaches Terry Brennan of the East and Buck Shaw of the West named their all-star starting lineups.

The West will counter with passing ace John Brodie, Stanford, quarterback; Jon Arnett, Southern California, left half; Pete O'Garro, UCLA, right half; and Dean Derby, Washington, fullback.

The weather forecast is for continued clear and warm—but Coach Brennan of the East isn't worried about that. He can't figure the odds.

Dancing Boxer Favored Tonight In Televised Bout

MIAMI, Fla., AP — Paolo Rosi, the balding Italian who is as agile in the ring as he is on the dance floor, ruled a 2-10-1 favorite over Baby Vasquez in tonight's nationally televised 16-round bout at Biscayne Arena.

Both lightweights are known to television fans, for each won his last appearance before the cameras.

Rosi, who has won several rhumba and cha-cha contests in his spare time, has a record of 23 victories in 26 fights since he came here from Italy.

Vasquez has won 45 of 58 fights.

Kuharich Asked To Make Up Mind

WASHINGTON, AP — Washington Redskins owner George Preston Marshall, tired of reading stories suggesting Joe Kuharich wants to return to the collegiate ranks, told his coach today to hurry up and make up his mind if he wishes to remain at the Washington helm.

Kuharich, who is on the West Coast to scout the annual East-West game in San Francisco, earlier this week declined to say whether he intends to coach the Redskins next year.

Marshall said he is "tired of these evasive answers," and wants Kuharich to confirm or deny publicly that he wants to return to college football.

Australia Sweeps Davis Cup Match 5-0

ADELAIDE, Australia, AP — Favored Australia wrapped up a clean 5-0 sweep over the United States in the Davis Cup challenge round today but two rays of hope appeared for America — the expected loss of Ken Rosewall and the brilliance of Sam Giammalva.

Having already clinched the cup on Thursday, the Aussies sent twin stars Rosewall and Lew Hoad out for a sweep today and they came through in dazzling style.

FIRST DARK-HAIRED Rosewall, who is expected to announce Saturday he is turning professional, downed young Giammalva of Houston, Tex., 4-6, 6-1, 8-6, 7-5 in a hard-fought match, and then blond Hoad ripped easily through 33-year-old Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, 6-2, 7-5, 6-3.

It was the second win for each Aussie star in this round, and the second straight year that the Aussies beat America by a perfect 5-0 score.

But there could be trouble ahead in 1957 for the Aussies. The expected loss of Rosewall to Jack Kramer's touring professional troupe will be felt, even though Hoad still will be around as the world's No. 1 player and a number of young Aussies are ready to help him.

AND GIAMMALVA, 22, showed again in his loss to Rosewall that he is rapidly becoming a player of top international ability.

"Next year he might be too much for us," admitted Australia's non-playing captain Harry Hopman in a brief talk at official ceremonies when the cup was presented to the Australian team.

sent to the Australian team. Giammalva, extremely popular with crowds here because of his good-natured gestures while playing and his determination, bowed to Rosewall only after a hard fight.

THE 33-YEAR-OLD Seixas, on the other hand, appeared at the end of the big-time trail in his match with Hoad. Although neither seemed to be going all out, Hoad simply overpowered the veteran U.S. player and won just about as he pleased.

Hoad made it clear in a few brief words spoken to the gallery at the presentation ceremony that he isn't going to turn professional.

Deep Freezers Used by Navy In Antarctica

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON 4th — You might think there wouldn't be any deep freeze problem connected with the Navy's "Operation Deepfreeze" in Antarctica.

Down there all you have to do is dig a hole in the snow and put the food in. It never spoils.

But the Navy Subsistence office's problems start long before the food ever gets near the recovered continent. There are no Mother Nature's coolers aboard a ship.

SO THE MEN WHO man the galley have a problem. Foods, such as fruits and vegetables, which taste as though they had just been plucked or dug, are what the boys want.

The NSO sees that they get it, but it takes doing.

Meats are among the frozen "musts." They must be kept frozen until they are ready to cook. The Navy wants them to taste as though they just came from the steer or hog or lamb. The "salt horse" days of the old Navy are gone.

SO ABOARD SHIP the commissary officer must know how much freeze space he has. And he must use that space to the best advantage.

What the commissary officer is most concerned about is the storage of frozen food. Say the vessel is supposed to be out 30 days. How about storms and other things that can cause delay? So the officer doubles his order and then worries about what to do with the extras if the ship makes the trip on schedule.

According to the NSO, that's the part that makes the commissary officer start to "tuck in." Maybe there is a little room in the freeze box where he can tuck in some boneless beef, some fish filets, a few hams, a few slabs of bacon. In recesses here and there.

If any is left over it will get used later on. Meanwhile, nobody starves on the way.

Experts Sling-Shotters Break 5 Windows

Windows in five stores and one parked car were shattered last night when a car load of sling-shot artists whizzed through Palm Springs.

Police said the culprits, armed with sling shots or a "bb" gun, broke windows at the Cork N Bottle, 342 North Palm Canyon Drive; the Landrumat at 691 South Palm Canyon; Foster Freeze, 202 South Indian Ave.; Palm Canyon Market, 111 South Palm Canyon; Equipment and Supplies, 132 South Palm Canyon; and an auto belonging to Abraham Chalk, of Los Angeles, parked at the Bel Air Hotel.

Villager Names New Editor, Ad Manager

Frank Bogert, publisher of the Palm Springs Villager, has announced the appointment of Carl Kulberg as editor of the magazine and W. J. Fitzgerald as business and advertising manager.

Kulberg is a graduate of the United States Diplomatic Service in South America and a former newsman. He has had wide executive experience with major mass magazines, is the author of two books and scores of fiction stories and articles. He was a syndicated columnist for This Week Magazine for many years and has for some time been a TV producer.

FITZGERALD COMES to the Villager as an advertising executive with years of experience with national consumer and trade publications. He is a veteran in the advertising agency, public relations and sales promotion fields.

"We are very pleased to have men of Kulberg's and Fitzgerald's caliber and background with us," said Bogert. "Their experience and talents complement one another ideally, and from them we will be able to improve the Villager further."

"In Val Samuelson, we have one of the best art directors in the country and with Howard Dow in charge of production, we can now also do the finest job printing in the desert," said Bogert, "and Bob Lather, our circulation manager, has interesting plans to increase circulation."

CARL KULBERG, left, editor of the Palm Springs Villager Magazine, going over dummy of the January issue with publisher, Frank Bogert, right, and W. J. Fitzgerald, advertising manager. The magazine appears shortly after the new year and contains seven new features and departments.

Submarines have been captured by cavalry and rammed by trucks. They have fought battles with infantry and railroad artillery. One sank a Zeppelin; another was attacked by an enraged Turk in a rowboat.

THOUSAND PALMS

By IZETTA HUNT

By IZETTA HUNT

The children of the Thousand Palms Community presented a Christmas program at the Chapel. The church was filled to capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chalton of the Vineland Greenhouse are newlyweds, as of last Saturday.

Recent guests of Hazel Pries were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Previate of Crockett, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Hale of Palm Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Friske and three children from Reseda, Calif., visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Friske at Shangri La Palms.

H. P. Caldwell and his sister, Margaret Shea Caldwell of Washington, D.C., are guests at their parents' home, the N. P. Caldwell.

Visiting for the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. William Little are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Golemen from Redondo Beach, and her brother Wesley, Jr., a navy man just returned from a six months tour of duty in Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Macpherson, Sr., were dinner guests at the Lennie residence Friday evening, to greet the Junior Macphersons and Donnie, when they arrived for the Christmas holidays.

Down for the holidays with his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crosby, from Portland, Ore.

"Monkey Business" has been the order of the day at the Hunt residence as a pet monkey broke his chain and took up living a top the house five days ago, and cannot be caught. With cats, dogs, children and grown ups, there has been quite a circus parade, and yet the monkey is loose. Neighbors just cannot believe their eyes when they drive in from the highway and spy a monkey sitting atop the porch.

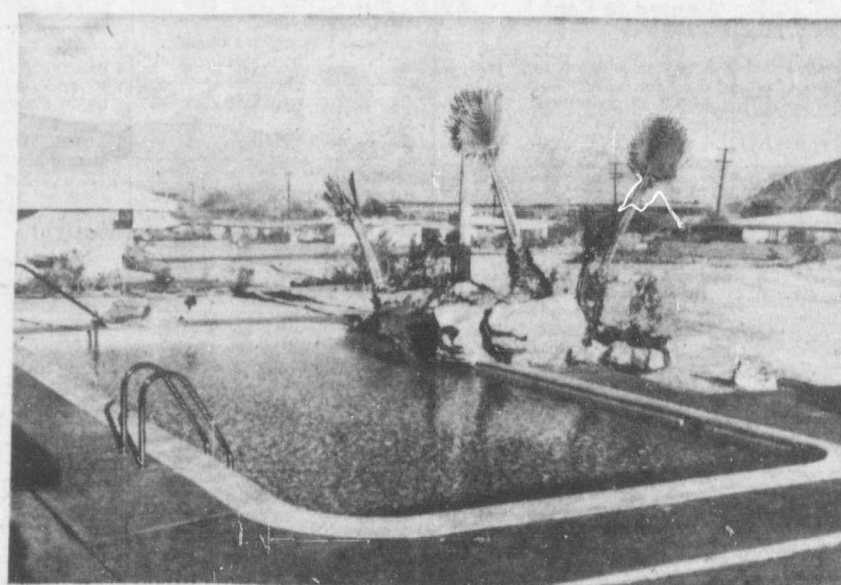

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Barnes from Hot Springs, Montana, are spending the winter months back in the desert.

Major and Mrs. A. Kranz have returned home after a month in the Los Angeles area.

Vincent Miller from the State University in Washington, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Paul Miller, this week. Mr. Miller is a research technician in the office of Population Research, and Washington State Census Board, and he is also working towards his doctor's degree in sociology.
